

Dear FCC,

I am against relaxing the rules on broadcast ownership. With only a few companies controlling most of the media now, we are heading for a monopoly on media. We currently find that our TV stations deliver poor quality news at the local and national level. Increased consolidation will not increase the quality. On the contrary, the few powers control the media control the information and news we receive, or more importantly, do not receive daily. One can no longer turn to mainstream media to get multiple perspectives and quality journalism.

I look forward to hearing from you.
